

Title of the session:

Motivating Students in 21st Century Japanese Language Classroom

Have you seen changes in students over the years? In the rapidly changing world, how can we help students discover the joy of learning another language and culture? What are the key elements a language teacher should know? In this session, participants will explore essential elements with practical approaches in creating an environment that promotes students' motivation in world language classroom. Participants will also gain important aspects of establishing a successful lesson, curriculum development and articulation that promotes learner's language learning.

Bring to session (only if available)

- current textbook and/or other relevant materials
- laptop and/or tablet such as iPad