- ❖ The following conditions apply if the student wishes to cancel their enrollment:
 - Cancellation must be submitted in writing, preferably with reason for cancellation included.
 - Cancellations received before the second class will receive a refund of the term fee, less a $50 administration fee. Cancellations received after the second class will be ineligible for a refund of fees.

- ❖ Materials, such as textbooks and handouts, are included in the course fee.
- ❖ Provided there are still spaces in the course, registration will remain open until the third class. For those who enter the course late, please note that there are no pro-rated course fees or alternate fees for those enrolling for a shorter period of time.

Evaluation

- ❖ In some cases, students may be asked to come in for a placement test to ensure their level is suitable for the class they enrolled in.
- ❖ The last class of each term is reserved for evaluating students’ progress. If, for any reason, students are unable to attend that class, no deferred/make-up dates are allowed. In these instances, a placement test may be required to determine if the student is able to continue on to the next term.

- ❖ If a student does not achieve a passing score (as per the course syllabus) at the end of Term 3, a placement test may be required to determine if the student is able to continue on to the next level of Japanese Together.

Class Cancellation

- ❖ In order for the course to be opened, a minimum number of registrants is required. The Japan Foundation, Toronto reserves the right to make the final decision in regard to opening or closing the course. In the event that a course is cancelled due to low enrollment, any fees that have been collected for that term will be refunded.
- ❖ We may cancel classes because of serious safety concerns, including natural disaster, war, political unrest, recent terror-attacks, outbreak of diseases, etc. In such an event the class missed may be rescheduled.
